DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress,

JAMES B. McCREARY.

Call For Meeting of County Committee.

The members of the Democratic County Committee are urgently requested to meet at Stanford at 1 p. m., Saturday, Nov. 1. It is important that every member should be present.

Thos. Richards, Chairman.

Just a week from to-day the next House of Representatives is to be elected by the people of the United States, who will be given an opportunity to express themselves on the brazen efforts that the republicans have made to perpetuate their party in power. The tariff bill, the turning out of the fairly elected democrats, the admission of rotten States and the demonetization of silver are before the people for endorsement or disapproval. If the democrats will rise in their might and do their duty by putting the seal of their condemnation on these and other iniquitous measures, we shall hear no more of the Force bill and that other scheme to take from the States the power to arrange their own congressional districts. Let there be such a tidal wave of popular opinion as shall bring the republicans to their senses and cause them to stay their designs of fraud and force. The democrats of the 8th district will help emphasize the disgust that every honest man feels by giving Gov. McCreary the largest majority he has ever received. Do not be deceived by the fact that he has no avowed republican opposition. He may have on election day, so go to the polls and cast your ballot for him and through him for free and honest government.

The "Old Woman," Allen G. Thurman will be 77 years of age November 13th and the Thurman Club of Columbus, O., will celebrate the event with a banquet in honor of the grand old statesman, President Cleveland and other distinguished gentlemen have accepted invitations and will be present. This officer has also been honored with an invitation, but we shall leave the waiting world in suspense as to its intentions.

JUDGE PRYOR makes an statement which will surprise most people who have cases in the Court of Appeals, and think they are a long time being heard. He says that the court will be up with the dockets in three months. Outside of the cases submitted at the present term, there are only about 100 cases to be disposed of. "The court is closer up with its work," said the judge, "than any in the country."

A PHILADELPHIA importer tells the Record that on a single invoice of $2,405 worth of worsted goods for working men's wear he paid tariff charges of $378, which of course he will add to the price. The $378 then comes out of the poor men who buy the goods. And yet the republicans are trying to convince people who do not reason that the tariff is not a tax.

Gov. McCREARY showed us a letter from the chairman of the Wisconsin Democratic State Committee, which contained the gratifying prediction that the democrats would elect a majority of the legislature, which is to name the success, or to Senator Spooner. It is to be hoped that this is not of the nature of that kind of news said to be too good to be true.

WHENEVER the news gets scarce in the East some enterprising reporter sends out the rumor that President Cleveland has dropped dead. This was done again last Friday, but fortunately it proved untrue. The great tariff reformer and economist still lives and will occupy the White House when Mr. Harrison retires to obscurity.

COL. BILLY BRECKINRIDGE is making the welkin ring for his cousin, C. R. Breckinridge in the 2d Arkansas. He spoke at Lonoke to the largest political gathering ever witnessed in the State. Six other points will have the benefit of his oratory.

The Elizabethtown News says that an error in the census of 1880 and the removal of the C. & O. shops caused that town to show a decrease of population this time. Prohibition, it declares, had nothing to do with it.

Gov. Hill's train collided with a freight and knocked him out of three appointments in West Virginia.

Pat Taylor, engineer of the passenger train, has since died, making the 7th victim of the C. & O. disaster.

More than 20 squares, on which were cotton compresses, mills, factories, &c., were burned at Mobile Sunday, causing a loss of $700,000.

A rock threw the express train on the C. & O. off the track near Hinton on the 23d, killing the engineer and injuring several other train men.

At East Pepperell, Mass., Leighton Bros' shoe factory burned, also three residences, seven stores and a block of boarding-houses. The loss is estimated at $300,000.

NEWS CONDENSED

Florida's population is stated at 390,345, an increase of 120,912. —Dr. Kallin, the 78th victim of the Louisville tornado, died Sunday. —Gibson's warehouse with 75,000 lbs. of tobacco burned at Cynthia. —Conductor Walton, who caused the terrible wreck on the Cincinnati South ern, has skipped out.

In a row at Cumberland Gap Sunday George Martin and James Norvell, brother-in-laws, were killed.

Some time since the wife of John W. Higher, of Franklin, eloped with Higher's landlord to Tennessee. The deserted husband followed them thither, killed Mrs. Higher and then suicided.

The extra session of the Ohio Legislature adjourned after passing Gov. Campbell's bill giving the mayor of Cincinnati power to appoint a Board of Public Improvements.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

—Mr. Miller has offered a resolution that the General Assembly shall make suitable provisions for the establishment and maintenance of a State library and shall create a permanent fund therefor out of the State revenues, which shall be inviolate and be expended exclusively in purchasing books, manuscripts, maps, charts and such property and effects as ordinarily belong to and constitute public libraries.

—This is the new preamble adopted after several weeks' debate. It is a great improvement upon the old one, which contained no mention of God, and reads: "We, the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, grateful to Almighty God for the civil, political and religious liberty we enjoy, in order to secure to ourselves and to succeeding generations the continuance of these blessings, do ordain and establish this constitution."

DEATHS: DOINGS.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Waddell, of Somerset, mourn the death of their infant daughter, which occurred last week.

Simeon Denny, aged nearly 104, died at his residence in Rockcastle, seven miles west of Mt. Vernon, Friday night. His father, who died about 18 years ago, lived to be 113. They lived in the same locality during their long term of life and were among the best citizens in Rockcastle.

J. Knox Frazer, a prominent young lawyer of Monticello, died at his home last week of paralysis. He was partially paralyzed a couple of months ago and has since had several strokes, the last one affecting his entire system. Mr. Frazer was a warm-hearted, clever gentleman, a hard student and an able practitioner. Besides a loving wife, he leaves two young children, who will sadly miss a fond and loving father.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Miss Sallie Aicorn, of Peyton's Well neighborhood, died of heart disease last Tuesday night. She retired hearty and cheerful. Her mother was aroused by a convulsive movement and found her dying. Her remains were interred in Hustonville cemetery.

—Mr. Boyle Reid, of Boyle county, late of McKinney, will return to Lincoln and take an interest in the Hustonville Roller Mills. Porte Peacock, the model clerk of the St. Asaph Hotel, was up Saturday to see the changes since he left and his friends were glad to see that his shirt front is not covered with the sparklers which typify his profession.

—Though Wednesday, 23d, was a rainy, sloppy day, a large and lively crowd attended the Reynierson sale on the Fork and stock sold high in rare instances. Common and grade ewes $4 to $7.50; horses $50 to $140; cattle and hogs well up to the current prices; corn $1.85 to $1.95 per barrel in shuck in heap. Combest & Allen bought 3 good cotton mules, 151 hands, at Danville, at $100 each, one at Reynierson's sale for $81.75 and a lot of feeders of over 1,000 pounds average at $25 per head.

A large and fashionable crowd from Hustonville and suburbs went to Danville Friday night to hear the celebrated cantatrice, Louise Kellogg, whose almost every season on the stage since we heard her 15 years ago, has been positively her last. Danville has been especially favored by the "only big town" cards this year. Scarcely had she recovered from the furore resultant from Forepaugh's grand aggregation, when her neighbors are again posted with promises of a treat offered but once in a lifetime in a rustic village. All that prevented your scribe from increasing the ticket office receipts is the trivial reason Abe Fullerton, poet laureate of Boyle, gave for not attending a certain big ball which he immortalized in his book of "occasional poems."

—We have it from good authority—a handsome young lady—that Liberty is likely to lose one of her best young lawyers. Whilst Louisville will profit by Liberty's loss, it is not probable that the bar will receive an addition, as the gentleman proposes embarking in some side-walk or street-corner business, which will afford best opportunities of seeing all the beautiful girls which promenade that thoroughfare of world-wide celebrity, 4th Avenue. Should the gentleman need capital and assistance in his new enterprise one insertion in the I. J. will bring applications by the bushel. Young ladies need not apply—the gentleman is neither widower, bachelor nor benedict.

—School Commissioner McClary was up this way last week affectionately distributing taffy amongst the female teachers and girl pupils. Frank is a natural mixer with the masses and would blush with maiden modesty could he hear the current comments after each of his visits. Mr. Milton H. Randolph and wife, nee Miss Lou Carpenter, a native of Lincoln, of Wichita, Kansas, are here visiting Mrs. Randolph's relatives. Mr. R. is an accomplished gentleman, whom we cordially welcome into one of our oldest and best known families. Joe Sallee, one of the nabob corner lot speculators of Big Stone Gap, found it necessary to pass through Hustonville last Thursday. Mrs. Lewis and daughter, of Gainesville, Tex., returned home last week after a protracted visit to West End relatives.

—Mr. Wm. Reid, Sr. is still confined to his room, Messrs. John and Jim Allen, Jim Goode, Buck and Will Weatherford put in two days fishing in Green River, near Dunnville, and caught 75 bass of about 2 lbs. average, the largest 31 lbs. They brought the fish home with them and nearly every family in town can furnish individual testimony as to the excellence of the fry. With an abiding faith in the belief that a fisherman will find him out, the party made no secret of the fact that they appreciate the capriciousness of fishes, and the necessity of a variety of baits, and went equipped for all emergencies, even to a snake-bite. Moreover, no bush whacking processes were permitted and every fish was taken in a sportsmanlike manner, tisly as the tale will seem to some anglers. I know. A general appreciation of the immense benefit to our streams that will rapidly follow the adoption of only hook and line in the capture of fish, should result from the evident increase of fish during the last year or two that wholesale seining has not been practiced. Distray seines, nets and traps and in three years Green River will afford sport to rod and line anglers second to no stream in Kentucky.

—Tom Payne, a native of Russell county, who had lately taken the road in the interest of a wholesale grocery house, was here one day last week amongst his many friends and next day they were shocked by the news that he had been killed in a railroad wreck near Somerton. Almost simultaneously with Mr. Payne's death, a few miles further on, another wreck occurred in which the loss of life and railroad property was almost equal to the collision of two cannon ball passenger trains near the same place two or three years ago. It is safe to attribute the greater catastrophe to the crew of the freight train, as every responsible member of that crew was killed or is missing. Suppose that the ganze charge that every member of that crew was asleep, whilst side-tracked by special order to await the passage of other trains, who is responsible for such an exhausted condition of the road's employees that an entire crew falls asleep on duty? That "corporations are soulless" has passed into the catalogue of American maxims, but when their greed leads to a criminal disregard of human life, which is not simply homicidal, but murderous, 'tis about time to call a halt and use a halter on a few scores of the immediately responsible agents of those soulless corporations. After the accident near Somerton spotters were thick, scores of employees were entrapped and discharged and a great show of reformation made, but the murderous mishaps continue as before. Statistics show that in America more brakemen are killed annually in the discharge of their duties, than passengers in the almost daily collisions, and all because some coupling device, which would insure the brakemen against accident, will cost royalty. If within the province of our con. can, let the subject receive early and thorough attention in the matter of constitutional safeguards, which can not be overridden by legislators on the alert for the main chance.

Cochran Williams' Luck.

Cochran John Williams, who guards the horseflesh of E. C. Howe, of Bristol, is in luck. He has just returned from a trip to California where his uncle died recently, leaving a large estate. The interest on $7,500,000 was bequeathed to John and his brother William, who lives at Blackburn, N. Y. The wealthy dependent, Theodore Lederick, immigrated to America from Metz, Germany, in 1849, during the gold excitement in California, and he went to that state with only enough money to pay his fare. He got into the mining business and prospered. In 1876 he was worth $10,000,000, but during the panic in 1877 he lost heavily. Before his death he left several millions to charitable institutions in his country.—Philadelphia Record.

Courted Nine Girls at Once.

At Lowell William Anderson, who was arrested on suspicion of larceny, is quite a character. In his possession was found a memorandum book, recording the fact that he was courting nine girls. For convenience sake he had them numbered from one to nine inclusive, and when he had occasion to refer to them in the memorandum it was by number.

One entry is the fact that No. 1 became aware that he was escorting No. 6 to places of amusement. His description of No. 7 would make her tear her hair if she read it. While traveling Anderson recorded that he had letters from eight of the girls in one day. Anderson claims a residence in Portland, Me., and was at one time a polo player.—Cor. Boston Globe.

The steamer, P. H. Kelley, struck a snag and sank 35 miles below Memphis. The cargo was saved in a damaged condition.

LOUISVILLE STORE

Pronounces the greatest bargains ever offered to the public. Such opportunities do not come every day. The whole town rings with the talk we are selling so cheap. We

A great deal for selling below the market. We think it easier to keep things lively through low prices than by trying to get too much. Slow work, this getting too much. We were never good at it. The daily papers have warned the people to,

Recently put into circulation in this country and executed cleverly enough to pass most people unnoticed. We also desire to put people on their guard about counterfeit clothing and shoes that is for sale in this town and gotten up so cleverly as to deceive the most credulous. It's an open secret that no house so carefully guards the interests of its patrons as we do, by putting honesty into every transaction and by offering only such as we can recommend with our established guarantee. We've got the goods and the right kind; the quality is genuine, not counterfeit, and we not only claim but do sell a better quality and better grade of Clothing, Shoes, Dry Goods, Boots, Hats, Trunks, Carpets, &c., at lower prices than any other house in this section of the country.

An apple tree half full of green apples and the other half in bloom is a freak of nature now presenting itself on the farm of Mr. J. H. Prewitt near Hustonville. Samples of both blossoms and apples have been left at this office.

The Count and Countess Magri (the latter Mrs. Tom Thimble), drove around in a carriage no larger than a Saratoga trunk, drawn by a pair of ponies about the size of an ordinary dog. It is a cute sight, well worth coming to see. They will be here Saturday afternoon and evening and their turnout will be on exhibition. Don't fail to see it and the performance.

The directors of the First National Bank of this place, being of the opinion that \$200,000 capital is sufficient to supply all the legitimate demands of the bank's customers, resolved at a meeting Saturday to submit the question of reducing it to that amount, the excess of \$50,000 to be returned pro rata to the stockholders. The vote will be taken Nov. 29 and powers of attorney will be sent by President J. S. Hocker to each of the 128 stockholders for their decision. The move is a good one. The capital of this bank has always been too large. By the reduction the earning capacity will be increased, the depositors will be amply secured and the stockholders will still have the same interest in the \$10,500 surplus that they have now, which will, of course, increase the value of their stock. It requires a vote of $\frac{2}{3}$ to make the reduction, which it is thought will be secured and have votes to spare. See copy of circular on this page.

A good deal of our racing space is given to day to the list of claims allowed against the county, but as this like Christmas comes but once a year our patrons will excuse us.

MAYNARD.—For the benefit of the country people and those who do not care to go out at night, the Mrs. Tom Thumb's, will give a matinee next Saturday, Nov. 1, at Walton's Opera House, when the prices will be 15, 25 and 35 cents. The performance will commence promptly at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. TOM THIMBLE, Count and Countess Magri, Baron Magri and a company of specialty artists will be at Walton's Opera House on next Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 1. The Countess Magri, or Mrs. General Tom Thumb, as she is more familiarly known, is as attractive as ever, and still holds her place as queen of the midgets. Count Magri and his brother, the Baron, are two little swordsmen. They are together with the Countess, will be seen in sketches and pantomimes. The rest of the company consists of bell-ringers, vocalists, magicians, &c. In addition to these, Miss Garrett will appear with her troop of 30 trained pigeons. Evening 25, 35 and 50, matinee 15, 25 and 35 cts.

In the circuit court, Friday, Thos. Carter was found guilty of throwing the club that fractured the skull of Alex Walker and was given three months at hard labor. Alex was able to be out or he would not have gotten off so easily. John Meadows, for house-breaking, was acquitted. There were no commonwealth cases Saturday and at noon the court adjourned till noon yesterday. Judge Morrow spending the interval with his family at Somerset. The Martini case is set for to-day and so is that of Bill Teeters for shooting Marshal Newland. The grand jury is said to be after the bar-rooms with a sharp stick. Yesterday most of the young men of Hustonville were summoned to tell what they knew about violations of liquor laws.

The case of the damage suit of Wm. Wright vs. the Cincinnati Southern was on trial when we went to press. It is for $5,000. He got $1,000 from a jury before, but the Court of Appeals by some order a new trial.

WHILE CARS.—It seems that the conduct of young Ed Rochester for the last few months, has not met with the exact approval of a self-appointed vigilance committee and during the last week he received several communications stating that he must mend his ways and be a better boy. The young gentleman heeded them not, however, and on Saturday night last he severely repented that he had not, for as he was going home that night a couple of masked men stepped up to him and without warning began to beat him unmercifully. After paddling him to their hearts' content they gave him a lecture, telling him that a repetition of his past offenses would be rewarded by a whipping doubly severe and hereafter he had better change his course for the better. They then told him to light out, which he did on short notice and a few seconds later was safely housed at home. He does not know who the guilty parties are, but says that he could hear at least 25 voices saying, "Whip him, kill him, take his scalp, and the like." The young man is pretty sore over it and says he will certainly hunt the parties down.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.—It seems that the Association meets at Stanford next Friday evening at 7 o'clock. An interesting programme has been prepared by the committee and those who are appointed to open the discussion on the different subjects should see that they get themselves there well equipped for their task, that the meeting may be both interesting and influential. All others not provided with special topics are expected to be at their post of duty and join heartily in the discussion of the themes as they are brought up for consideration.

—C. L. Riley, of Versailles, sold his fine filly, Semper Fidele, to W. B. Letcher, of Richmond, the owner of Bill Letcher; price $10,000.

—Ike Dunn bought of J. T. Hackley, of Lincoln, 13-mile colts at $55. Judge J. S. Robinson sold to the Messrs. Belmont 14 nice feeding cattle, 1,300 pounds, at $3. These gentlemen have bought about $5 head of feeders, of course extra good, at $3 to $4.—Lancaster Record.

To the Stockholders of the First National Bank of Stanford:

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Stanford held October 25, 1890, the Board were of the opinion that a capital of $200,000 was sufficient to supply all the legitimate demands of the bank's customers and large enough to amply secure the depositors; and that such a reduction will enhance the value of the stock and increase its earning capacity. It was therefore resolved that the question of reducing the present capital from $250,000 to $200,000 and the return of the excess of $50,000 pro rata to the stockholders, be submitted to the vote of the stockholders on November 29, 1890.

As the law authorizing a reduction of the capital of a National Bank requires a vote of two thirds of its capital, it is earnestly requested that every shareholder sign the enclosed power of attorney and mail or leave it at the bank, so that their votes may be cast in the event it happens they can not be present at the time mentioned.

Very Respectfully,

J. S. Hocker, President.
